

Mock Schedule Types

- These are mainly used for topics based courses where a student will take more than one section of a specific course. The registration system does not allow students to register for multiple CRNs of the same course. Mock schedule types are used to “trick” the registration system so that the scheduler does not have to give overrides to each student.
- If you are unsure of what schedule types are available on a specific course, click on the three dots next to schedule type in Banner to see what options are available.
- We have mock schedule types available for all schedule types EXCEPT for INT, OLB, OLC, OLD, PKG and RES.
- All requests for mock types need to be emailed to FMS. Once a mock type is added to a course, it is available for the requested term and all subsequent terms.
